

World Meeting of the International Society for Research on Aggression: Call for submissions!

Dear colleagues and friends,

We are happy to announce that the deadline for symposia submissions for the 2024 ISRA World Meeting in Munich, Germany has been extended to February 15th!

We have an excellent scientific program organized that includes experts on diverse topics related to aggression. The conference will take place in our historic University Main Building in the heart of Munich. Hotels, museums, restaurants, shops, and the beautiful “English Garden” are close by. The venue is easy to reach by public transportation.

Our social program will include a gala dinner and a Wine and Cheese Poster reception. Please tell your colleagues, coworkers as well as new investigators about ISRA 2023 and actively participate at the meeting by submitting symposia, talks, and posters.

Please have a look at the approaching deadlines (symposia, papers, and posters: 15 February). You can find all relevant information about the meeting below and at <http://www.isra2024.de/>
See you in Munich!

Katja Bertsch, Friederike Funk, Aleya Flechsenhar, and Mario Gollwitzer

Meeting Venue

Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München
Geschwister-Scholl-Platz 1
80539 München, Germany

Scientific Program

The scientific program of the 2024 World Meeting aims to represent multidisciplinary research on aggression. The foundation of the scientific program will include symposia, oral paper presentations, poster sessions, and invited keynotes. The World Meeting will also include a preconference workshop for young investigators from all around the world; a presidential address; the Scott Award Address; the Huesmann Award Address; networking opportunities and a meeting of members. We invite you to register for the World Meeting and submit abstracts for symposia, oral presentations, and/or poster presentations on the World Meeting registration and submission portal: www.isra2024.de

Keynote Speakers

Dorothy Espelage

William C. Friday Distinguished Professor of Education
School of Education
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, U.S.A.

School-based Bully Prevention: Identifying Risk and Protective Factors Across the Social-Ecology

Sophia Moskalenko

Georgia State University and United Nations Office of Counter-Terrorism Hub for Behavioral Insights, U.S.A.

Deadly Disinformation: The role of conspiracy theories and ideology in mass radicalization

Joseph B Richardson

MPower Professor of African-American Studies and Medical Anthropology, Department of African-American Studies, Department of Anthropology, College of Behavioral and Social Sciences, University of Maryland, U.S.A.

Gun Violence and social murder: Understanding structural violence, community violence and trauma among young black men living in the national capital region

Karin Roelofs

Donders Institute for Brain Cognition and Behaviour, Radboud University, Nijmegen, The Netherlands

Emotion control in aggression, a neuroendocrine perspective

Presidential Address

Tracy Vaillancourt

Faculty of Education
University of Ottawa, Canada

Is Aggression Part of the Human Condition?

John Paul Scott Award

Thomas Elbert

Department of Psychology
University of Konstanz, Germany

Fighters - in the tension between violence and trauma.

L. Rowell Huesmann Early Career Award

Spencer C. Evans

Department of Psychology
University of Miami, Coral Gables, FL, USA

Youth Irritability, Anger, and Aggression Revisited: A Developmental Psychopathology Perspective