

TPM®

TPM - TESTING, PSYCHOMETRICS, METHODOLOGY
IN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

Special Issue: Social interactions in medical settings

Guest Editors: Dora Capozza and Cristina Zuccheromaglio

CONTENTS

- 401 EDITORIAL
- 403 O'BRIEN, B. C., LITTLE, J. W., RIVERA, J., & WIEDINMYER, B.
Using interaction analysis to examine interprofessional learning among health professionals
- 429 KOENIG, C. J., WENGER, M., GRAHAM, G. D., ASCH, S., & RONGEY, C.
Describing the "learning loop": An overall structural organization of SCAN-ECHO video consultations between specialist and generalist providers for specialty care liver problems
- 453 FASULO, A., & STERPONI, L.
Understanding children's mental health conditions in their interactional environment: Conversation analysis and autism
- 471 ZUCCHERMAGLIO, C., ALBY, F., & FATIGANTE, M.
What counts as illness? Anamnesis as a collaborative activity
- 489 DOVIDIO, J. F., EGGLY, S., ALBRECHT, T. L., HAGIWARA, N., & PENNER, L. A.
Racial biases in medicine and healthcare disparities
- 511 HAGIWARA, N., & DENT, R.
Patient-physician communication during racially discordant medical interactions: Limitations with the current coding systems
- 531 DRINANE, J. M., OWEN, J., & KOPTA, S. M.
Racial/ethnic disparities in psychotherapy: Does the outcome matter?
- 545 CAPOZZA, D., FALVO, R., BOIN, J., & COLLEDANI, D.
Dehumanization in medical contexts: An expanding research field
- 561 DE CARLO, N. A., DAL CORSO, L., FALCO, A., GIRARDI, D., & PICCIRELLI, A.
"To be rather than to seem": The impact of supervisor's and personal responsibility on work engagement, job performance, and job satisfaction in a positive healthcare organization
- 581 INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS