You can apply for travel, seedcorn, collaborative research grants, and the RKTS grant at any time, but these grant applications are only considered after the deadlines at the end of March, June, September, and December.

Depending on the grant type, please attach the following to your grant application.

Travel grants

1. A brief (around 1000 words) proposal outlining the purpose and duration of the visit and its anticipated outcomes
2. For postgraduate members: A short letter of support from the applicant's current supervisor explaining the importance and timeliness of the visit
3. A brief letter from the proposed collaborator in the host institution, agreeing to the visit and to providing access to the necessary facilities (not needed for participation in meetings and conferences)
4. A travel budget, including the likelihood/availability of obtaining alternative sources of financial support

Seedcorn grants

1. A proposal (approximately 1500 words) outlining the nature, objectives and duration of research and its intended outcomes
2. A letter from the head of the institute/department where the research is to be conducted confirming that access to the necessary facilities will be provided
3. A justified budget, including the likelihood/availability of alternative sources of financial support
4. For full members: An updated CV (including publication list)

Collaborative Research grants

1. A proposal (approximately 1500 words) outlining the nature, objectives and duration of research and its intended outcomes
2. A letter from the heads of the institutes/departments where the research is to be conducted confirming that access to the necessary facilities will be provided
3. A justified budget, including the likelihood/availability of alternative sources of financial support
4. For full members: An updated CV (including publication list)

Pre-registered Research grants

1. A letter of acceptance (usually an IPA) of a research proposal by a peer reviewed journal to run pre-registered social psychological research. This letter should include an explicit indication of the involvement of the applicant in the pre-registered research
2. The accepted research proposal
3. A justified budget for running the study

Research Knowledge Transfer Scheme

1. An outline about the nature, objectives, and duration of the initiative and its intended outcomes.
2. The participant group at which it is addressed.
3. A detailed budget, including the likelihood/availability of obtaining alternative sources of financial support.
